

DEATH AFTER SPREE

J. R. Howarth, Arrested for Drunkenness, Ordered to Leave Murray, Drinks and Dies.

Arrested while in a drunken stupor at Murray and given thirty minutes in which to leave town, after he had so, Howarth, a book agent, sought solace in drink and about 10:30 p. m. last night died suddenly in the Denver saloon at Murray, as a result, apparently, of alcoholism. Howarth is believed to have been about 30 years old. The dead man had been peddling medicine and books throughout the valley, and claimed that his home was in Salt Lake. No light could be thrown on the antecedents by members of any Howarth family residing here, it is thought that an inquest will not be held.

Howarth was arrested by Marshal Michael Maule about 11 p. m. on complaint of residents in the vicinity of the Highland Bay smelter. He was by a state of intoxication by the roadside. Later in the afternoon Judge McMahon found the man guilty of drunkenness and ordered him to leave town. Howarth, however, refused to leave and was taken to the Denver saloon and, after drinking several glasses of whisky, sank into a chair and died quietly.

"DESERTER" ENTRY ERASED

Blot on Record of Private William Dynes Is Removed From the Army Records.

The stain of desertion, entered upon the military record of Private William Dynes, whose skeleton was found in a discarded uniform in a rumble on the hillside above Fort Douglas, was removed yesterday on the recommendation of the board of officers, composed of Captain J. N. Straat and Lieutenant H. A. Barton. When Private Dynes suddenly disappeared the word "deserter" was stamped upon his record. It was forwarded to Washington and there recorded. Private Dynes' first enlistment dates back to the civil war. He was discharged with honor from the ranks of the Northern Army, and the only blot on his record was that he deserted. HYOMEI, THE GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE, ENDORSED BY PHYSICIANS.

No one should confound Hyomei with the potent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. The composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.

Hyomei is endorsed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia. It is the only natural and rational way of curing catarrh.

Would it be a common sense treatment to try and cure a cold by coughing and sneezing? Is it not just as foolish to try and cure catarrh by coughing and sneezing? The only natural way to cure this disease and all diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by F. C. Schramm under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it does not, we will refund the money. For sale by F. C. Schramm, corner 1st, 2nd, and Main streets, "where the cars stop."
